RA1: Considered that OA and KM strategy of an organisation act as a significant aspect for achieving the OE, i.e., (organisational accountability and knowledge acquisition)

RP2: Indicates that OAs distinctive characteristics support and strengthen the organisational coordination and integration of operational and managerial skills proficiency to achieve sustainable organisational capability i.e., (organisational capability and knowledge association)

RP3: emphasised that organisational knowledge can enhance organisational learning and performance through transformation, application, embedding, and protecting of managerial knowledge as a set of various processes to attain performance, i.e., (OA and knowledge application).
